Free Seminar on Frailty

The Institute of Ageing and Health is delighted to invite you to attend this interactive seminar to support health professionals to understand and be able to identify frail people. You will be introduced to the conceptual models of frailty and will be given an overview of the key tools you can use to identify and assess frailty. The seminar will also help you to explore what it is like to walk in the shoes of a frail person.

We are delighted to have Dr. Dawn Moody, a GP from Derbyshire with a specialty interest in frailty and person-centred care along with Anna Lynall, an expert in self-care who is currently undertaking a PhD, to facilitate this seminar.
